

International Workshop « Local terminal risk as an analogue of existential risk: theoretical and empirical dimensions »

(May 14-15, 2025, IEA-Paris, 17 quai d'Anjou, Paris 4.

WORKSHOP PROGRAM

(rapidly evolving draft May 14 Version)

Wednesday May 14

9:00:	doors open
9:30-10:00:	Welcome: Jean-Paul Vanderlinden	coffee available.
10:00:	doors close
10:00-11:00	Opening keynote: Werner Krauss:	Sedimented narratives in precarious landscapes: Storytelling in the Anthropocene
11:00-12:30	Presentations: Carlos Del Cairo and Maite Yie Garzon; Chloe Dhaille.	News from Venecia, Cundinamarca, Colombia (titles forthcoming). Ordinary care ethic as perpetuation of one's world: Two water care stories in Venecia, Cundinamarca
12:30-14:00	Lunch break
14:00-15:00	Conversatorio: Clara De La Hoz, facilitated by Jean-Paul Vanderlinden.	Moral status of care for the elderly. Case study of a nursing home in San Miguel de Sema, Boyaca. Colombia.
15:00	break
15:30-17:00	Presentations: Yorghos Remvikos, Anne-Laure Legendre, and Luisa Sanchez; Anne-Laure Legendre and Luisa Sanchez	Investigating local terminal situations: Semantics, pragmatics and ethics within the PREFER Project. “When it stopped being a pueblo”: experiences of transformations and place attachment in Tenjo, Cundinamarca (Colombia).

International Workshop « Local terminal risk as an analogue of existential risk: theoretical and empirical dimensions »

May 14-15, 2025, IEA-Paris, 17 quai d'Anjou, Paris 4.

Programme

Thursday May 15

9:00:	doors open
9:30-10:00:	Synthesis of the first day: Jean-Paul Vanderlinden	coffee available.
10:00:	doors close
10:00-10:45	Results integration: Clara De La Hoz, carlos Del Cairo, Anne-Llaure Legendre, Luisa Sanchez, Yorghos Remvikos, Maite Yie Garzon:	Local Terminal Risk and Resistances: experiences from three Colombian communities.
10:45-13:00	Presentations: Jean-Paul Vanderlinden, Thi Minh Ha Bui, Charlotte Da Cunha Baptiste Salmon Kuluk Helms	On the Dao , modernity, and everyday ethics in the Mekong Delta Being “at a loss” in times of disaster: when the world – and public policy – no longer make sense Terminality, accessibility to culture and narratives of changes: three Greenlandic case studies
12:30-14:00	Lunch break
14:00-15:00	Présentation: Jeanne Gherardi	The meaning of an icebreaker: ethnographic encounter in Ittoqqortoormiit (Kalaallit Nunaat)
15:00	break
15:30-16:30	Closing keynote: Tanguy Sandré	From existential risks to multispecies extinctions: thinking coexistence from human-narwhals relation in Ittoqqortoormiit (Kalaallit Nunaat)
16:30-17:30	Concluding remarks Observations, way forward, and closing of the workshop: Jean-Paul Vanderlinden	Local terminal risk as an analogue of existential risk: theoretical and empirical dimensions

